Salute to the Flag

Moment of Silence/Reflection

A moment of silence and reflection was held for Ukrainian residents of Cortland and the U.S., and their extended families in Ukraine.

Proclamations/Presentations

Police Chief Paul Sandy and Deputy Chief David Guerrera informed the council that the police department was reaccredited by the New York State Division of Criminal Justice Services (DCJS) for a five year period. Chief Sandy credited the department's accreditation manager Sgt. Penny Guerrera, the command staff and officers for ensuring the department met the high standards set by DCJS. The chief noted that approximately seven percent of police department in the state receive accreditation and that even fewer are reaccredited. The mayor and members of the council congratulated the chief and deputy chief.

Privilege of the Floor

The mayor noted that there were people present to speak regarding a proposed resolution on the agenda which would authorize an agreement to transition Medicare eligible retirees to a city-sponsored group Medicare Advantage Plan at the option of each retiree. The mayor said that he was sensitive to the concerns of retirees and would pull the resolution from consideration at this time in order to provide more information to retirees and to allow city employee unions and the Cortland County Area Agency on Aging to review the proposal and provide independent analysis. Council Member Silliman suggested a Zoom session be conducted for retiree's that live outside the area. Council Member Beckwith stated that workshops will be held to provide retirees a full understanding of the proposed plan.

At this time Richard McMullin, James Nichols, Connie Sorrells, Kim Fairchild and Michael Dexter were each given privilege of the floor. Four of the speakers are retired city employees, and one, Ms. Sorrells, is a current city employee. Speakers noted that they had been contractually guaranteed to receive during retirement health coverage maintained at a level as good as or better than what they had been provided while employed, and that costs for such coverage had been earned through the accumulation of unused sick and vacation time. Speakers expressed concern that the proposed Medicare Advantage Plan would not provide coverage equal to that currently provided through commercial health coverage. Other concerns included that out-of-pocket costs may be higher due to providers being out-of-network, and the impact on retirees and their family members who have serious health conditions and which involve extensive diagnostic testing and treatment. Speakers said that it is important to provide retirees with a clear ability to opt out of the proposed plan and retain existing coverage if desired.

Connie Sorrells, a city employee, also asked if there are plans to hire a director of administration and finance. She acknowledged that the mayor was working "morning, noon, and night," but that she considered the financial staff to be under-staffed. The Mayor addressed this issue in his finance report.

The mayor thanked speakers for their input and said that the city will provide additional information to address these concerns.

Mayor's Report

The mayor said that the police department had surplus protective equipment that was being donated and sent to Ukrainian officials via Poland. The property was obtained at no cost to the city through grants and government programs and had not been used in several years, being replaced with newer equipment. The mayor asked the council to approve a resolution:

RESOLVED, that the city of Cortland has deemed the military surplus possessed by the Cortland City Police Department as surplus and of no use to the agency, and grants authority to donate it to the Ukrainian citizens for their efforts in defending their country.

A motion was made by Council Member Beckwith, seconded by Council Member Lane and approved by a vote of 8-0.

The mayor noted the retirement of Detective Lieutenant Michael Strangeway from the police department and thanked him for his service.

The mayor noted and thanked the fire department for their response to the Suit-Kote fire February 16th, a chlorine gas situation February 23rd, a fire on Lincoln Avenue March 8th, and a hazmat situation at the college march 11th. He also thanked the department for their efforts in distributing food on February 17th.

The mayor youth bureau director John McNerney's 34 years of service, and his pending retirement. The mayor said that the youth bureau board would interview potential candidates to replace Mr. McNerney and forward their recommendation.

The mayor reported that there is still uncertainty in the county's redistricting process and the impact on the city.

Ward Reports

- Ward 1: Council Member Schutt said that several dog and snow removal issues had been resolved. He thanked the fire department for their response to the Lincoln Avenue fire. He said he had a meeting with the firefighter's union and thanked them for their commitment to the community.
- Ward 2: Council Member Silliman said there were multiple incidents of disruptive behavior by college students during a recent weekend celebration, and that additional help and cooperation on the part of the college administration was needed. She said that the code office had been helpful in getting students to cleanup garbage and debris. Ms. Silliman thanked the code office and police department for their help in resolving a resident dispute, and also thanked the department of public works (DPW) for their work in filling potholes.
- Ward 3: Council Member Pennello noted that college parties escalate towards the end of the spring semester and that when driving around on Sunday mornings the evidence can be seen. She expressed concern about zoning issues and the potential for single family homes to become student housing.
- Ward 4: Council Member Lane said that residents had contacted her about fraudulent mailings claiming to provide insurance for pipes from the street to homes. A Scam alert had been posted to the city's website and she warned residents about the scam. She thanked Nic Dovi, superintendent of public works, for his prompt response in filling potholes on Broadway. Ms. Lane also said she received input from residents indicating that they preferred the council to meet twice a month, rather than once.
- Ward 5: Council Member Thompson thanked John McNerney for his work on behalf of children. He said there was an increase in reports and complaints about tractor trailers in residential neighborhoods. Mr. Thompson thanked DPW for its response in filling potholes. He also said he had meet with Council Member Michales on the Randall Park project.
- Ward 6: Council Member Carpenter said that an ongoing garbage issue had been resolved and thanked the code office for their efforts.
- Ward 7: Council Member Beckwith said that filling the youth bureau director job should be a priority. He said he would like updates on the Apex property and NYS Department of Transportation (DOT) truck routing issue. He also thanked the police department for their handling of recent college celebrations.

Ward 8: Council Member Michales said that a problematic vacant property had been sold and he hoped it would be rehabilitated. He noted that a crosswalk sign at the intersection of Clinton Avenue and Main Street remained out to a parts shortage. He said that a portion of the Clinton Avenue project had come in under budget which helped fund Washington Avenue work. Mr. Michales commented that there was a mechanics position in DPW which needs to be filled as there are trucks needing repair. He also said that he had meet with Council Member Thompson, and youth bureau staff to interview landscape architecture and engineering design firms and selected a company to do the Randall Park work. He said workshops will be held to let residents know more about the project.

Finance Report

The mayor indicated that there are currently budget areas that are short. The audit is ahead of schedule and a preliminary review should be done this month.

The mayor addressed Ms. Sorrell’s question about hiring a director of administration and finance saying that an interim director is being sought and that he was considering possible restructuring. He added that the city has a great accounting team and he is confident in the city’s finance staff and systems.
